

Just for once, try leaving well enough alone. The public's interest will not be helped by increased media ownership. And after all is said and done, shouldn't the public interest be your interest?